The Commission finds it has jurisdiction over GGSC.

In determining whether to grant a certificate of public convenience and necessity, the Commission requires the new public utility to possess the financial capability, managerial expertise and technical expertise needed to provide sufficient and efficient services.<sup>3</sup> GGSC's application contains a proposal to acquire the needed financial capability, managerial expertise and technical expertise for the first high capacity, multi-turn natural gas storage facility in Kansas.<sup>4</sup>

Staff's conditional recommendation is subject to GGSC timely filing with the Commission specific information to substantiate GGSC has the actual managerial and technical expertise needed to provide sufficient and efficient service of the proposed natural gas storage facility and pipeline in Kiowa County, Kansas.<sup>5</sup> The Commission adopts Staff's R&R as additional findings.
