didnot want to honor contract for Gas at my Residence

therefore they wanted to plug the well or transfer over to me I accepted the transfer and am not using any gas to heat household at present time but have everything set to hook up now to heat homestead. Since wasn't using the gas didn't realize had to renew license until ready to hook up to Residence my misunderstanding since it was in idle position I apologize for my wrong and am planning to renew my license and proceed with the project of home heating. I'm sorry for this mistake and would appreciate the license renewed at the homestead for the $25.00 dollar fee and waive the penalty fee $500. Thank you very much I will not let this license relapse in the future.

Sincerely,

Michael H. Smith
