Line 610 – Functionality in Emergency Situations

Section 54.313(a)(1) requires eligible telecommunications carriers (“ETCs”) to certify that they are “able to function in emergency situations as set forth in §54.202(a)(2)”¹ in connection with their provision of voice services. The Commission’s Rules do not require an ETC to describe how it is capable of handling emergencies. The referenced rule section, Section 54.202(a)(2), requires that each applicant for ETC designation must “[d]emonstrate its ability to remain functional in emergency situations, including a demonstration that it has a reasonable amount of back-up power to ensure functionality without an external power source, is able to reroute traffic around damaged facilities, and is capable of managing traffic spikes resulting from emergency situations.”² Although N.E. Colorado Cellular d/b/a Viaero Wireless (“Viaero”) is not an applicant, it will rely on Section 54.202(a)(2) to describe its network’s emergency functionality for purposes of Section 54.313(a)(1) as follows:

Viaero has deployed sufficient power generators throughout its network and also has the capability to deploy temporary microwave facilities quickly to the extent necessary for Viaero’s network to remain functional during emergencies. These generators and microwave facilities ensure that (1) a reasonable amount of back-up power is be available to ensure functionality without an external power source; (2) Viaero is be able to reroute voice traffic around damaged facilities; and (3) Viaero is capable of managing spikes in voice traffic resulting from emergency situations.
