E. ESTABLISHMENT AND FURNISHING OF SERVICE (Continued)

b. Requests from customers for additional services may be made verbally, if the original contract provides that such additional service may be ordered, and no advance payment will be required. A move from one location to another within the same Exchange Area is not considered to terminate the contract and orders for such moves may be made verbally.

2. Telephone Numbers

The customer has no property right in the telephone numbers or any right to continuance of service through any particular central office, and the Company may change the telephone number or central office designation, or both, of a customer whenever it deems it advisable in the conduct of its business to do so.

3. Alterations

The customer agrees to notify the Company promptly in writing whenever alterations or new construction on premises owned or leased by them will necessitate changes in the Company's wiring or equipment; and the customer agrees to pay the Company's tariffed charges for such changes. (T)

4. Maintenance and Repairs

All ordinary expense of maintenance and repairs to Company-owned equipment is borne by the Company. Customers may not rearrange, or disconnect, or remove any apparatus or wiring, up to and including the Network Interface Device (NID), installed by the Company. In case of loss of, damage to, or destruction of any Company equipment occasioned by neglect of customer, the customer is held responsible for cost of restoring equipment to its original condition.

5. Customer's Authorization

The Company may require satisfactory written authorization for the right to construction, install, and place required facilities on the customer's premises in order to make the service connection. Such written authorization, when required, shall be properly executed by the holder of the legal title to the premises. The Company may refuse to furnish service to any person, firm, or corporation thereon until such requested authorization is provided.

F. TELEPHONE DIRECTORIES

1. The Company will in January of each year make available upon request to any subscriber a copy of the directory. Subscribers may request a copy of the directory in person at the Company premises. Subscribers may also access the directory on the Company's website. (CR)

F. TELEPHONE DIRECTORIES (Continued)

- a. The Company, except as provided herein, shall not be liable for damage claimed on account of errors or omissions from its directories nor for the result of the publication of such errors in the directory, nor will the Company be a party to controversies arising between customers or others as a result of listings published in its directories. Claims for damages on account of interruptions to service due to errors or omissions in directory listings will be limited to pro rata abatement of the charge for such of the customer's service as is affected, the maximum abatement not to exceed the full amount of the local exchange service charge for the period from the date of issuance of the directory in which the mistake occurred to the date of issuance of a new directory containing the proper listing.

G. APPLICATION OF BUSINESS AND RESIDENCE RATES

1. Business Rates Apply at the Following Locations

- a. In offices, stores, factories, mines, and all other places of strictly business nature.
- b. In boardinghouses, except as noted under 2.b., offices of hotels, halls, and offices of apartment buildings, public, private or parochial schools or colleges, hospitals, libraries, churches, lodges, clubs, and other similar institutions, except as noted in 2.d. herein.
- c. At residence locations when the customer has no regular business telephone and the use of the service either by them, the members of their household or their guests, or parties calling them can be considered as more of a business than a residence nature, which fact might be indicated by advertising either by business cards, screens, newspapers, handbills, billboards, circulars, or other advertising material, such as on vehicles, etc., or when such business use is not such as commonly arises and passes over to residence telephone during the intervals when, in compliance with the law or established customer, business places are ordinarily closed.
- d. At residence locations, when an off-premises extension is located in a shop, office, or other place of business.
- e. In college fraternity and sorority houses.
- f. In any location where the listing of service at that location indicates a business, trade, or profession, except as specified under 2.c. below.

H. DIRECTORY LISTINGS (Continued)

1. General Regulations (Continued)

- (c) the name under which a business is actually being conducted by someone other than the customer and which the customer is authorized by such other to use; or
- (d) the individual names of the officers, partners, or employees of customers; or
- (e) the names of departments when such listing are deemed necessary from a public viewpoint.

d. Whenever any question arises as to the right of a customer (1) to list the name of a business which the customer claims the customer is authorized to represent; or (2) to use a listing which includes the trade name of another; the Company is privileged to require the customer to secure from the owner of such name, written authority to use it, addressed to the Company for the acceptance for insertion or for the continuance of such listings; and is privileged to refuse to accept or to delete such listing where (1) such written authority is not so furnished or (2) such authority is withdrawn by such owner in writing to the Company. (T)

e. Primary Listings

One listing without charge, termed the primary listing, is provided as follows:

- (1) for each separate customer service (when two or more exchange access lines are consecutively operated, the first number of the groups is considered the primary listing); and
- (2) for each semi-public service.
